

Fall 2018/Winter 2019

COURSE/TIMETABLE/ REGISTRATION INFORMATION

(for upper-year JD students and all graduate students)

1. BASIC INFORMATION (this section mainly for JD students)

- You are responsible for complying with all JD degree requirements, and for registering in your courses by the relevant University deadlines. So please read the following information very carefully, before you register.
- For the upper-year course timetables (Fall and Winter), see Course Timetable, Fall 2018, and Course Timetable, Winter 2019. For examination timetables (Fall and Winter), see Exam Timetable, Fall 2018, and Exam Timetable, Winter 2019.
- All upper-year (i.e., second and third year) JD students must register for at least 31 credits in second year and 31 credits in third year.
- All upper-year (i.e., second and third year) JD students must register for at least 12 credits per term, to a maximum of 18, and for at least 31 credits per year, to a maximum of 36. You will only be able to register for the maximum of 18 credits during the Fall semester as the maximum will be exceeded during the Winter term as a result of the 4 credit Block courses.
- JD students cannot register for less than the required number of credits (see above) without first obtaining the written consent of the Office of the Associate Dean to register as part-time. That consent is given only in exceptional circumstances as determined by the Faculty's part-time studies policy.
- NOTE: Second-year JD students cannot accumulate surplus credits in their second year for subsequent application towards their third year requirements. In other words, courses taken in the second year cannot count towards the third year of the program.
- All courses carry 3 credits, except Block courses which carry 4 credits each.
- You are personally responsible for registering in your required courses, as well as in your optional courses, unless otherwise indicated.
- Where "Consent of the Faculty" is required, that consent can only be given by the Office of the Associate Dean, except in Law 585, 587, 589, 673, 677, 678, 690 and 695 where consent is given by the Mooting and Debating Committee, which selects students for these courses following application. The deadline for applications is sometime during September/October, and will be announced in due course by the Chair of Mooting/Debating.

- If you are applying for student loans, you may need to register in your courses sooner rather than later, perhaps even by the beginning of August. For the specifics on this, check the conditions of your loan applications.
- If you are a second-year student and thinking of studying abroad during the Fall Term of your third year, your best source of initial information is the Centre for International Students and Study Abroad (CISSA), located at 275 MacEwan Student Centre. For Faculty of Law information, see International & Civil Law Study. Please note that there are deadlines for applying and you should be aware of those, particularly if you are seeking letters of reference from faculty.
- Second year students thinking of studying abroad during the Fall Term of third year must ensure that they have completed all required courses in second year in the event that those courses are not offered during the Winter term of their third year.

MANDATORY COURSES/REQUIREMENTS

- The required courses that must be completed in second year are Administrative Law, Ethical Lawyering, Civil Procedure, Evidence and Negotiation. Ethical Lawyering (3 sections) is offered in the Fall term, and Civil Procedure in the Winter term. Two sections of Administrative law and Evidence are scheduled in the Fall; one section of each is scheduled for the Winter term. Negotiation is a 3-week block course in January 2019.
- The only required course that must be completed in third year is Law 602: Advocacy (3-week block course in January 2019). Students must register in one of the sections (Civil Trials or Criminal Trials) at the time enrollment opens on Monday, June 25th. Students who have not registered by Monday, July 23rd will be automatically assigned to the Civil or Criminal sections depending on the number of students registered in each section. Students are not permitted to move sections after this date without the approval of the Course Director and the Assistant Dean, Student Services. See Law 602: Advocacy Course Information on the website.
- Law 509 (Business Associations) must be completed in either second or third year. This course must be completed prior to graduation. One section of Business Associations will be offered in the Fall term, and two sections in the Winter term.
- Registration in required courses is on a first-come/first-serve basis, and all sections are capped. If a particular time, term or professor is a priority to you, make registration in that course a priority because we will not be lifting enrollment caps even where there is a significant wait list.
- In order to graduate with a JD from the University of Calgary, you must also satisfy the following requirements:

- “Upper Year Writing Requirement”. For detailed information, see Upper Year Writing Requirement. Students must complete and submit a Written Declaration (Upper Year Writing Requirement) to the Assistant Dean, Student Services confirming that the requirement has been satisfied.
- “International Requirement”. For detailed information, see International Requirement. Students must complete and submit a Written Declaration (International Requirement) to the Assistant Dean, Student Services confirming that the requirement has been satisfied.
- “Theoretical Perspectives Requirement”. For detailed information, see Theoretical Perspectives Requirement. Students must complete and submit a Written Declaration (Theoretical Perspectives) to the Assistant Dean, Student Services confirming that the requirement has been satisfied. Note that all theoretical perspective courses are capped at 16 students, so if taking one of these courses is a priority for you, make registration in that course a priority.

Remember! In order to graduate in law from the University of Calgary, you must achieve satisfactory performance (C- or better, or Credit in courses marked CR/D/F) in each required element of the curriculum (i.e., mandatory courses, upper-year writing requirement, international requirement and theoretical perspectives requirement).

OPTIONAL COURSES

- All optional courses are open to both second and third-year students, except Law 591 (Provincial Court Clerkships) which is open to third year students only.
- If you register in Law 674A & B (Business Venture Clinic), you must enroll in Law 693.xx: (Entrepreneurial Law) as well.
- If you are interested in a Provincial Court Clerkship (Law 591), up to five third-year students may be selected (in the Fall) for a Clerkship at the Provincial Court of Alberta during the Winter Term. The deadline for applications is 4:00 pm. on Thursday, October 18, 2018. For detailed information, see Provincial Court Clerkships on the website.
- If you are interested in Law 653: Directed Research, approval is required from the Office of the Associate Dean. For information see Directed Research Proposals.
- If you are interested in taking Law 686/688 A & B (SLA Clinical Theory/Practice), for detailed information see Student Legal Assistance: Clinical Theory/Practice on the website.
- If you are interested in taking Law 687A & B (Criminal Justice Clinical), see Criminal Justice Clinical on the website.
- If you are interested in taking Law 696.xx (Human Rights Clinical), see Human Rights Clinical on the website.

- If you are interested in taking Law 696.xx (Alberta Utilities Commission Clinical), see AUC Clinical on the website.
- Please note: Criminal Justice Clinical, SLA Clinical Theory/Practice, Business Venture Clinic, Public Interest Theory/Clinical and Denton's Energy Law Study Tour are 3 credit courses offered over the whole year.
- Also note: Law 599.xx: Legal Practice: Innovation (Fall), is an intensive course offered over a (3 week) condensed period of time. Law 565: Internet Law (Fall) is scheduled to begin 3 weeks after the regular start of classes and therefore has longer class times. Law 599.xx: Legal Practice: Project Management (Winter) and Law 599.xx: Legal Practice: Crisis Communications for Lawyers (Winter) are also scheduled as non-standard courses. Please check the timetable very closely for details.
- Where two or more courses conflict with one another either on the timetable or on the final exam schedules, you may only enroll in one of them.

Once the enrollment cap is reached, you will not be able to register in that course or section. However, you can register on a waiting list. If a place opens up, the first eligible student on the waiting list will be automatically enrolled, and an email will be sent to him/her the next day confirming this. We cannot move people ahead of others on a waiting list.

(b) All other courses have de facto enrollment caps by virtue of seating limits. Where a de facto cap is reached, you may wish to register on the waiting list.

3. PREREQUISITES/COREQUISITES

Some optional courses have prerequisites/corequisites. For those which do and do not, see Instructor Course Descriptions and the Calendar Course Descriptions. Consent to waive a prerequisite/corequisite may be given by the Office of the Associate Dean (or in the case of graduate students, by the Graduate Program Director), but only if the instructor consents first. The procedure to follow is: (1) approach the instructor (perhaps by email), seeking the instructor's consent to waive the pre/co requisite and explain why s/he should agree to waive it in your particular case; (2) assuming consent, ask the instructor to email you and copy the Assistant Dean, Student Services confirming the consent; (3) if the Office of the Associate Dean (or Graduate Program Director) also consents, the prerequisite/corequisite will be manually waived in the registration system.

4. AUDITING COURSES

Provided the instructor consents first, the Associate Dean may consent to JD students auditing courses and the Graduate Program Director may consent to graduate students doing so. The procedure is as follows: (1) approach the instructor (perhaps by email) seeking the instructor's consent to audit; (2) assuming consent, complete a "Registration Exceptions" form (available here) and get the instructor to initial it; (3) give the form to the Assistant Dean, Student Services who, assuming consent of the Associate Dean/Graduate Program Director, will send it to Enrollment Services; (4) Enrollment Services registers you as an audit and charges you a fee.

5. LAW-RELATED COURSES OUTSIDE THE FACULTY

With the prior consent of the Office of the Associate Dean, JD students may take law-related courses outside the Faculty of Law for credit towards their law degree, up to a maximum of 9 credits over their second and third years combined. (Graduate students wishing to take a course outside the Faculty should consult with the Graduate Program Director.)

JD students should initially propose a course by emailing the Assistant Dean, Student Services, including the course number (minimum 300, preferably higher), title, description and projected course outline/ syllabus. Such courses must be seen to complement your law degree, by adding significantly to your understanding of law and the legal system (e.g. courses in legal or moral philosophy, constitutional government, legal history, criminology and so on). On the other hand, such courses must not involve a subject which you can study (or could have studied) in the Faculty of Law at a more appropriate level (e.g. a course in business law for business students would not be approved, nor would any other substantive or procedural course designed for non-lawyers).

6. EXAMINATION TIMETABLES

We publish the exam timetables now so that you can take them into consideration when choosing your optional courses. If, for example, you wish to avoid two or three or four exams in two days, now is the time to avoid that by selecting your courses accordingly. The exam timetables are firmly set and applicable to all students, and we cannot adjust them on account of individual concerns and preferences, nor can we defer exams to accommodate conflicts. The University Regulations also indicate as follows:

Requests for pre-assignment of examinations to special dates for whatever cause or reason will not be accommodated. Similarly, requests for changes to the dates of scheduled examinations will not be approved. Student votes and petitions to change a scheduled final examination will not be considered as these have been found to result in undue pressure on students not in agreement with an altered examination schedule.

That said, the timetables, as you see them now, generally assume that all courses involve a final examination unless expressly noted to the contrary in the Instructor Course Descriptions document.

Depending on actual course outlines in September and January, this assumption may or may not turn out to be true. Once course outlines are published, we will delete from the exam timetables those courses that have no final exam.

Upon receipt of the course outlines on the first day of class, it is the student's responsibility to carefully review the assignment due dates and deadlines to ensure that they can manage their workload accordingly.

7. COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

Included on the faculty website is the "Instructor Course Descriptions" document. This document provides descriptions of most courses being offered this year, including information about the topics the courses cover, how they are evaluated and what you might gain from taking them. We strongly recommend that students review this document carefully prior to making their course selections. For courses not listed in the Instructor Course Descriptions document, please see the Calendar Course Descriptions.

8. COURSE OUTLINES

Some course outlines from previous years are available through the Bennett Jones Law Library D2L page. You may access them as follows:

- Sign on to MyUofC.
- Select D2L.
- Click on the "My Tools" drop down menu in the red tool bar at the top of the page and select "Self-Registration".
- One of the courses listed in the Course Offering Name is "Bennett Jones Law Library".
- Select it and follow the steps to register for the BJLL course page.
- Once registered, click on "Content" to see the Outlines, which are arranged by course level.

Please note, however, that instructors may change the content and evaluation methods for their courses from year to year.

9. HOW TO REGISTER IN COURSES

Enrol on-line (for both terms at the same time) using your Student Centre:

- Go to <http://ucalgary.ca/registration/>. Click on MyUofC. Login using your eID and password.
- Click on Dashboard Tab.
- Scroll down to "Academics" select Enroll.
- Select term, either Fall 2018 or Winter 2019.
- Continue.

At the beginning of each registration period, you will be asked to confirm your contact information. Please take a moment to review the information online and update it as necessary.

- Select Begin Initialization key.
- Under “Add Classes” see Find Classes. Select Class Search.
Enter Search Criteria:
Course Subject: Law
Course Number: For example 503
- DESELECT THE BUTTON: “SHOW OPEN CLASSES ONLY”
- Select Search button

Once you have identified the class you wish to enroll in:

- Click on Select Class, then select Next.

Note: If more than one section is offered, select the section you wish to enroll in and click NEXT. The class now appears in your Shopping Cart. Putting a course in your shopping cart does not guarantee your enrollment in the class.

Continue to search for your next course and repeat. Your shopping cart will populate.

- Select Proceed to Step 2 of 3.

Quickly review the information displayed, check that these are the classes you wish to enroll in and that the term is correct.

- Select Finish Enrolling.

The system will confirm your enrollment in the class or will indicate an error if difficulties were encountered. Only at this time in the process, upon confirmation of your successful enrollment in the class, is a seat secured for you.

View the results of your enrollment and fix any errors. If you wish to enroll in more classes, repeat steps above. A good way to check whether you have been successfully enrolled in a course is to view your schedule.

- Select the My Class Schedule tab

If your course does not appear in your schedule, it may still be in your shopping cart, or perhaps it had an error message that you missed. Once your courses appear in your schedule, you are finished.

10. NEED HELP WITH REGISTRATION?

From your Student Centre:

- Click on the Help link.

This link will take you to the Course Registration Guide (www.ucalgary.ca/registration) where you will find step-by-step instructions on how to register for classes. Help is also available from Enrollment Services – contact them by phone at 403-210-7625,

11. CHANGE OF REGISTRATION DATES: FALL TERM

- Thursday, September 13: Last day for dropping courses (without receiving a “W” grade).
- Thursday, September 13: No refund of fees if you withdraw from full courses or Fall Term half-courses after September 13.
- Friday, September 14: Last day for adding courses or for changing registrations from credit to audit or audit to credit in full courses and Fall Term half-courses.

12. CHANGE OF REGISTRATION DATES: WINTER TERM

- Monday, February 4: Last day for dropping courses (without receiving a “W” grade).
- Monday, February 4: No refund of fees if you withdraw from full courses or Winter Term half-courses after this date.
- Tuesday, February 5: Last day for adding courses or for changing registration from credit to audit or audit to credit in full courses and Winter Term half-courses.

13. PAYMENT OF FEES

There are a number of options regarding fee payment. It is highly recommended that you use telephone/internet banking services to pay your fees. By paying through banking services, you can avoid the long line-ups that occur around the fee payment deadline and ensure that your fees are processed right away. The University of Calgary no longer accepts tuition payments by credit card. Additional information on fee payment can be found at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/currentstudents/finances>

Students can access their fee statement through their Student Centre in MyUofC. For more information regarding fee assessment and payment, contact Enrollment Services located in MacKimmie Library Block (MLB) Lobby, Tel: 403-210-7625.

Friday, September 21, 2018: fee-payment deadline for JD and graduate students for Fall Term.

Friday, January 25, 2019: fee-payment deadline for JD and graduate students for Winter Term.

Upper-Year Courses for 2018/19

- All full-time JD students must register, in each of their second and third years, for at least 12 credits per term, to a maximum of 18, and for at least 31 credits per year, to a maximum of 36.
- All graduate student course selections must be approved by the Graduate Program Director.

- Some optional courses have prerequisites/corequisites. For those which do and do not, see Instructor Course Descriptions and Calendar Course Descriptions.
