Why UCalgary Law?

“The challenges facing Canada today—globalization, the information revolution, reconciliation, climate change, multiculturalism, the ever-present tensions associated with Canadian federalism—represent legal challenges as well as social and political ones. And each is challenging not only the way in which we think about the law, but also the way in which we at UCalgary Law are thinking about legal education.”

Dr. Ian Holloway, PC QC
Dean, UCalgary Law

WE ARE CANADA’S MOST INNOVATIVE LAW SCHOOL

Think Calgary is just about oil and gas? It’s time to remove that thinking from your brain. Calgary is home to a thriving innovation ecosystem, becoming the preferred place for start-ups and tech giants alike, from financial institutions to green energy solution providers. In fact, in 2020, Calgary companies captured $353 million in venture capital funding through 33 deals, and the start-up community is expected to triple the size of the tech sector in the city and create 30,000 new jobs by 2031.

Our city also has the highest head office concentration per capita in Canada. And do you know what all those organizations need? Lawyers. UCalgary Law will prepare you for the legal marketplace of the future, whether that’s in the evolving energy industry, environmental law and sustainability, family law, Indigenous law, or any other area you want to practice.

THE CALGARY CURRICULUM

The legal profession, in Canada and worldwide, has entered a period of tremendous change. Lawyers in today’s markets need a more comprehensive range of skills and knowledge than lawyers from the past. We are committed to an innovative teaching approach to give our graduates the best education for the legal marketplace of tomorrow.

Our ground-breaking Calgary Curriculum gives you the competence you need to understand the concepts, methods, analysis, reasoning, and critical perspectives to excel in the practice of law. Our innovative teaching practices also help you translate that knowledge into action.

UCalgary Law has unique course offerings to fully prepare you for the legal profession, no matter what area of law you choose to practice. These courses include:

- E-Litigation
- Marketing & Client Development
- Reconciliation & Lawyers
- Leadership for Lawyers
- Corporate & In-House Counsel

Annual intensive block courses will amplify your learning experience. Starting with Foundations in Law & Justice I and II in your first year, you’ll learn legal methods, case analysis, legal research and writing, oral advocacy, and client management. Negotiations takes place in your second year, where you will learn to apply ethical reasoning skills, improve cultural sensitivity, navigate the complexities of multiparty contexts, and put everything into practice in multi-day mock negotiations. The final semester of your third year kicks off with our Advocacy course, where you will engage with fundamental trial skills in the context of a complex civil or criminal case.

JOINT PROGRAMS

Combined JD/MPP
(Master of Public Policy) (3.5 years)
Offered with The School of Public Policy, the JD/MPP (Master of Public Policy) combines the study of law and public policy across a wide variety of areas, including resources and the environment, economic and social issues, international policy, as well as taxation, regulation and public finance.

You will develop your legal skills and ability to understand, analyze, develop and implement public policy. You will be ready to take on senior leadership roles in public or private sectors where collective legal and policy expertise is required to achieve success.

Combined JD/MBA
(Master of Business Administration) (4 years)
The joint JD/MBA program, offered in partnership by the Faculty of Law and the Haskayne School of Business, is designed to develop skilled, knowledgeable leaders ready to stand out in the highly competitive global market. This four-year program combines legal and management studies. It prepares graduates for positions in fields such as corporate law, commercial litigation, international law, management consulting, government service and politics, taxation, finance and accounting, and environmental management.

International Energy Lawyers Program
(JD/JD, 4 years)
The International Energy Lawyers Program (IELP) is a joint JD program with the University of Houston Law Center that allows you to earn both Canadian and American law degrees in four years and apply for admission to the bars in Canada and the US. You will develop highly marketable skills for the energy and resources industry across North America. Employment opportunities are high because the program is structured to facilitate internships and networking opportunities in the energy industry.

Certification in Common Law in French
Offered in partnership with the University of Ottawa Faculty of Law, the CCLF allows students with competencies in French to gain skills in French legal writing and advocacy and a deep understanding of the critical issues surrounding language rights in Canada. Students who earn the CCLF will help to increase access to justice for French-speaking clients in Alberta and across Canada, a group that is commonly underserved in the legal system due to language barriers.

INTERNATIONAL LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES
Practicing law doesn’t happen in a bubble, nor should your legal education. International legal studies are increasingly important in our interconnected world, and UCalgary Law students have various opportunities to participate in legal education across the globe.

London Corporate Law Summer Institute
London (along with New York) is the financial capital of the world, and a common place for Canadian companies and lawyers to find themselves operating. The Institute will ground students in the legal and business considerations that drive corporate legal structures in the United Kingdom and the United States, focusing on capital raising transactions.

International Exchange
Spend a semester abroad in one of our approved programs around the globe, including South Africa, Hong Kong, Singapore, Australia, Denmark, Finland, France, and Mexico, to name a few.

CLINICAL OPPORTUNITIES AND EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING
Experiential learning has been at the core of our teaching philosophy for more than 40 years. Our clinical programs provide for-credit learning opportunities to develop practical skills and theoretical knowledge in areas that interest you the most.

- Student Legal Assistance: represent real clients on various matters, including criminal law offences, family law matters, residential tenancy issues, small claims disputes, and traffic offences.
- Public Interest Law Clinic: gain real-world litigation and law reform experience in relation to a wide variety of public interest issues.
- Business Venture Clinic: help entrepreneurs and start-ups navigate their unique legal needs.
- Provincial Court Clerkships: earn litigation experience, from the judicial perspective, on rotations through the Criminal, Family and Youth, and Civil Divisions of the Court.
- Family Law Clinical: gain insight into ‘real life’ family law practice by drafting court documents and developing skills through role-played interviews and advocacy.
- Human Rights Clinical
- Alberta Utilities Commission Clinical

LIVING IN CALGARY

On-Campus Housing
If you’re looking for an easy commute to class, UCalgary offers several residence offerings, including one- and two-bedroom apartments in Crowsnest Hall.

For families, Varsity Courts features one-, two-, and three-bedroom townhomes with heat, water, and electricity included.

Off-Campus Living
A short walk from campus, the University District combines residential, retail, and office spaces, shopping, dining, and entertainment, with inspiring parks and breathtaking natural scenery. Or search for off-campus housing with the Students’ Union and Places4Students Inc., which provides a listing of numerous high-quality off-campus housing options.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES
Whether you love to write, play sports, or participate in community advocacy, there is a club for you at UCalgary Law. We also boast chapters of national groups, including the Black Law Students Association, Pro Bono Students Canada, Association of Women Lawyers, Legal Education Action Fund, and the Runnymede Society.

Other clubs include:
» OUTLaw: offers a safe forum for our LGBTQ+ community to interact, provide mutual support, and foster inclusive and positive attitudes toward sexual orientation and gender identity.
» Indigenous Law Students Association: aims to support Indigenous law students and promote awareness of Indigenous issues amongst peers at UCalgary.
» Diversity & Law Society: promotes diversity and multiculturalism in the study and practice of law.
» Gender Equity in Law Association: works to engage, educate, and inspire law students to fight gender inequity in the law.

Each year, students plan and participate in the Law Show, a fun-filled talent show, and the Law Formal, which gives students a chance to unwind and celebrate with friends before fall exams. In the spring, graduating students and their families head to Banff or Lake Louise for a graduation banquet and dance against the backdrop of the stunning Rocky Mountains.

CAREER & PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT OFFICE

Our grads get jobs. Want proof? Over the past five years, our average articling placement rate has been 99%. We also earn more than 50% of the first-year summer jobs in Calgary each year. Our competitors don’t even come close to matching that number.

Our success in getting UCalgary Law students jobs comes from the exceptional work done by our Career & Professional Development Office (CPDO). Our career advisors have deep connections with law firms—big and small—throughout Alberta and across Canada. If you want to be a lawyer, no matter what area of law you want to practice, our team will help you achieve that goal.

“This internship has been a great addition to my legal education. It has enlightened me on how big of a role legal innovation plays in solving the access to justice problem. This knowledge has informed my philosophy about practicing law.”
Naomi Austin
Current law student

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Our CPDO team can also work with you to secure employment opportunities with organizations like the United Nations and the Centre for Law and Democracy, and international corporations.

Our Innovation Internship Program connects current law students with forward-thinking employers in the legal profession to help companies and law firms address and overcome critical business challenges. The program allows students to gain hands-on experience in the methodologies used for identifying, developing, and implementing solutions to industry issues, including process mapping, stakeholder needs identification, project management, and communication. Students also develop a broad understanding of data analytics and legal technology solutions and how they can support solutions for the industry.

STUDENT & ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Our Assistant Dean of Student Services supports our students’ well-being and overall success by providing personalized support and academic advice to all students in the JD program. Our partnership with the Alberta Lawyers’ Assistance Society (ASSIST) gives students access to mental health and well-being supports and educational programs.
Financing your law degree

Tuition at UCalgary Law is highly competitive with law schools across Canada. Completing all three years of law school with us is less expensive than one year at some Canadian law schools, a considerable difference to your debt load, which can limit your career options down the road.

Tuition fees are assessed on a per-course basis:

- Canadian students
  - $1,257.18 per 3-unit course

- International students
  - $4,209.60 per 3-unit course (includes visa differential)

» Full-time, first-year JD students will take 18 units per semester.
» Full-time second- and third-year students will take a minimum of 12 units per term, to a maximum of 18, and at least 31 units per year, to a maximum of 36.
FINANCIAL AID
Student loans are available to Canadian citizens or permanent residents studying full- or part-time in a degree-granting program.

Alberta students
Alberta residents who require financial assistance to pursue post-secondary education may obtain student loans by applying online through Student Aid Alberta. Students submit one loan application and may be eligible to receive any combination of federal or provincial loans and grants.

» Information about Alberta Student Loans

Out-of-Province Students
Students who reside in a province other than Alberta are eligible for government student loan funding and can apply through their home province or territory of residence. Students submit one loan application and may be eligible to receive any combination of Federal or provincial loans and grants.

Students with questions about loan eligibility and the application process can contact their provincial/territorial loan office directly. Additional information can be found on the CanLearn website.

Applying to UCalgary Law

(FIRST-YEAR LAW STUDENTS)

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS
☑ Completion of an undergraduate degree in the area of your choice. There is no approved “pre-law” program.
» UCalgary Law calculates your GPA based on your last 60 units/credits.
» It is rare (less than 2%) that an applicant is admitted without completing their entire bachelor’s degree before starting law school. Typically, those within this 2% are mature applicants with strong career and lived experience.
☑ Write the LSAT before January 31.
☑ Write a 500-word Statement of Interest.
☑ Optional: Complete the Special Facts Related to Diversity, Equity, and Lived Experience.
☑ Upload transcripts from every post-secondary institution you have attended, including graduate studies.
☑ Provide evidence of English language proficiency, if required, as set out in the University of Calgary Calendar.
☑ Application fee:
  $125 (CAD) for Canadian applicants
  $145 (CAD) for international applicants

Black applicants
If you self-identify as Black in your online application, you will have the opportunity to complete an optional personal essay of up to 1,000 words. The personal essay will be considered as part of your overall file review within our comprehensive admissions process.
» Learn more about the BSAP

Indigenous applicants
If you self-identify as Indigenous on your application, you will have the opportunity to complete an optional essay of up to 1,000 words addressing lived experience as First Nations, Inuit or Métis peoples in Canada, including connections to their own Indigenous community and history. Applicants are invited to outline their connection to their Indigenous culture (or loss of it, and why) and anything else that may have contributed to their interest in the legal field and the study of law.
