

THEORETICAL PERSPECTIVES REQUIREMENT

2019-2020

- In order to graduate from the Faculty of Law at the University of Calgary, all JD students must complete a “Theoretical Perspectives Requirement” during their second or third year.
- The Theoretical Perspectives Requirement may be fulfilled by satisfactorily completing and achieving a grade of C- or better in one of the following courses:
  - Law 519: Jurisprudence
  - Law 579.xx: Legal Theory, Property
  - Law 579.xx: Legal Theory: Residential Schools Litigation
  - Law 579.xx: Legal Theory: International Law
  - Law 579.xx: Legal Theory: Indigenous Legal Traditions
  - Law 579.xx: Legal Theory: Multiculturalism & the Law
  - Law 596: Feminist Legal Theory
  - Law 624: Environmental Law & Ethics
  - Law 667: Advanced Public Law
  - Law 693.xx: Legal History
  - Law 693.xx: Law & Development
  - Law 693.xx: Public Interest Law: Clinical Theory (Students must also be registered in the companion clinical practice course)

Or, if approved by the office of the Associate Dean (Academic),

- Law 653: Directed Research
- A course on theoretical perspectives completed during a Study Abroad or International Exchange Program

Upon completion of the Theoretical Perspectives Requirement, the student shall provide a Written Declaration indicating that the Requirement has been met and setting out which course or option was used to meet the Requirement and the semester in which it was completed.

Failure to provide the Written Declaration in a timely manner may preclude the student from graduating. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure the Written Declaration is submitted to the Assistant Dean, Student Services upon completion of the Theoretical Perspectives Requirement.
